

Over 500 people visit Quilting Show

The members of Bourne Quilters held a very successful show of work at the Emsworth Community Centre at the end of July and welcomed over 500 visitors.

There were four rooms displaying over 200 exhibits each of which had a short note of explanation as to how and why the piece was made. There was a large variety of items including bed quilts, wall hangings, cushions, bags and wearable art. Demonstrations took place throughout the weekend. Lesley Syme was kept busy showing how to make fabric post cards; Patricia Massey demonstrated how she made exquisite jewellery from fabrics and beads; Maureen Thomas and her 'Bag Ladies' worked on creating wonderful bags, whilst Lou Starr showed what could be made at her courses.

Also on display was a large quilt made by members of Bourne Quilters which will be raffled in aid of The Rowans Hospice.

There was a Sales Table, which was laden with items made by the members. This proved to be very popular with those looking for that special handmade item

Thank you to everyone who helped to make this show such a success.

Hayling Lifeboat in real action at Open Day

Planned demonstration launches at the Hayling Island RNLi Open Day on Sunday 13th July were delayed when the lifeboats were tasked to three real incidents requiring immediate assistance.

The first at 11am, a medical evacuation from a yacht anchored off East Head in Chichester Harbour, where a five year old boy had a deep cut to his foot after walking on the beach. The youngster and his mother were brought back to the lifeboat station in the Atlantic 75, B Class lifeboat, where the Hayling First Responders, manning a display, were able to assess the casualty before the ambulance arrived. Later, help was sent to a small fishing boat in Hayling Bay with a petrol engine that was overheating and a sports boat in Bracklesham Bay which had lost its propeller. On both occasions, the lifeboat towed the boats back to safety in Chichester harbour.

Gil Carter, Deputy Launching Authority said, "The incidents demonstrated to the visitors the reality of the search and rescue services that operate on Hayling 24/7."

Two of the crew with young visitors ready for action

The Open Day, the first in the newly extended building, was designed show visitors how the two inshore lifeboats, the Atlantic 75, B Class Lifeboat and the smaller D Class Lifeboat, are launched and recovered using specially adapted tractors. Visitors also had tours of the new facilities including the RNLi's Radar Mobile Training Unit.

Recycled Teenagers

The Emsworth Recycled Teenagers Club meets weekly on Mondays from 2-4pm at the SYRCH Centre, Lutman Street, Emsworth, and members enjoy a wide range of fun activities, guest speakers and regular trips.

This club gives older people a wonderful opportunity to meet with others and enjoy spending time together - for some, it's the only trip out they have each week. Volunteers need only give an hour or two each week, and it really is so rewarding.

Volunteering can be great fun and enjoyable as well as a fabulous way of meeting new people. The club needs to recruit a number of new volunteers including a leader and club helpers, drivers and escorts to help transport members to and from the club. New members would also be most welcome.

Please call Jill Brookes or Edwin Ingleton on 01962 877772, or email ingleton@brendoncare.org.uk for more information on joining the club as a member or a volunteer.

Sacred and Secular: LOYALTY

The Waterside Ecumenical Community series of autumn lectures got off to an excellent start on 5 September when Ray Cobbett spoke about 'Loyalty in Politics - a contradiction in terms'. A lively and, thoughtful but always tolerant discussion followed with many differing viewpoints being expressed. The series continues throughout the autumn, for details of sessions still to come, see page 10.
